706-236-4416

A museum inside includes murals from Rome's history, the restored original clockworks. Open the first Saturday of summer months or by special appointment.

Free admission.

May - Oct: 12:00 p.m. - 1:15 p.m.

Rome Braves Baseball

755 Braves Boulevard
706-368-9388

romebraves.com

The Rome Braves, single A affiliate of the Atlanta Braves, play April through September in State Mutual Stadium, a state-of-the-art facility located minutes from downtown Rome. Stars Brian McCann, Jeff Francoeur and Yunel Escobar all started with the Rome Braves. See the stars of tomorrow play today! Purchase tickets online or in-person.

Berry College

2277 Martha Berry Highway
706-232-5374

berry.edu

Founded by Martha Berry in 1902, the school sits on the world's largest college campus and boasts historic buildings and homes of many architectural styles. Sites include one of the world's largest wooden overshot waterwheels, historic chapels and miles of mountain trails for hiking and biking. Several feature films including 'Sweet Home Alabama' and 'Remember the Titans' were filmed on the sprawling campus. Campus open daily during daylight hours.

Between the Rivers

This historic district lies in downtown Rome between the Etowah, Coosa and Oostanaula rivers; and is the site of Rome's founding in 1834. Much of Rome was burned during the Civil War, but the spirit of Rome emerged and was rebuilt into a thriving town. Visit the Rome - Floyd Visitor Center for a brochure tour to learn how a small cotton port became the modern community it is today.

Capitoline Wolf

601 Broad Street

Located on the steps of City Hall on Broad Street, this statue of the Capitoline Wolf with Romulus & Remus was sent from ancient Rome to new Rome by order of the Italian Dictator, Benito Mussolini in 1929.

Civil War Sites

During the Civil War, Rome was the site of important war industries, thus making it a center for action. Several sites, including the location of three forts remain. Rome is also credited as the beginning point to Sherman's historic "March to the Sea." Visit the Rome - Floyd Visitor Center for a brochure.

Roman Holiday Riverboat

706-295-5576

The Joel Sulzbacher Roman Holiday is Rome's public riverboat providing both public tours and private excursions. Tours are scheduled from April - October with special themed cruises including: Rolling on the River, Spirits of the Civil War, Cruise with the Rome Braves, and Fall Foliage tours. Visit RomeGeorgia.org for more information on individual cruises or group bookings which can include tours of Rome and ECO Center. Visit or call the Rome - Floyd Visitor Center to book your tour.

Memorial Wall

Located downtown in the City of Rome, which was designated a Purple Heart City in 2015, this memorial overlooks the Oostanaula River in Government Plaza behind The Forum. The wall displays the names of all Rome and Floyd County citizens who gave their lives in war during military service to the United States of America.

History comes to life.

Myrtle Hill Cemetery

Myrtle Street

Located at the confluence of the Etowah & Oostanaula Rivers atop one of the seven hills of Rome, the cemetery covers 32 acres on 6 terraces and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Founded in 1857, Myrtle Hill is the final resting place of many famous Romans including Ellen Axson Wilson, First Lady of the United States. Other features include 368 Civil War graves from both the Union & Confederacy and multiple war monuments.

Myrtle Hill Cemetery Tree Tour

Discover over 35 different species of trees. Many trees are rare and not native to the Northwest Georgia Area. Download the map at: RomeGeorgia.com/treetour

Free Mobile App Tour

Experience the history of the cemetery through a free Mobile App Tour with GPS navigation, audio, video and historic photos. It's just like having a historian guide you through the cemetery. To download, search "Myrtle Hill" in the Apple App Store or Google Play.

Gates open daily from 9am-6pm. Brochure tours and tree maps are also available at the Rome - Floyd Visitor Center.

Chieftains Museum Major Ridge Home

501 Riverside Parkway
706-291-9494

chieftainmuseum.org

Chieftains Museum/Major Ridge Home was once the former home of Cherokee leader Major Ridge and his family. Its heritage most significantly encompasses the history and traditions of the Cherokee Indians and the clash of cultures in the southeastern United States that culminated in the tragedy known as the "Trail of Tears." The museum tells the story of the Cherokee up to the removal, as well as exhibiting Cherokee artifacts that were unearthed on the property. The museum has been designated as a National Historic Landmark and an official site on the Trail of Tears National Historic Trail.

Open Wed - Sat, 10am - 5pm. Adults $5. Seniors $3. Students $2.

Rome Area History Museum

305 Broad Street
706-235-8051

romehistorymuseum.com

As a vital center for local historical research, the Rome Area History Museum preserves, interprets, and exhibits collections portraying the history of Rome and the surrounding area. The permanent exhibits create a walk through time starting with the Native Americans and early settlers through the Civil War, and then the development of Rome's culture, life-ways and industries. Original documents such as maps, blueprints, photos, personal letters and business records provide sources that paint Rome's history. The archives house photographs, books, and manuscripts.

Open Wed - Fri, 10am - 4pm. Sat 10am - 2pm. Free.

Oak Hill & the Martha Berry Museum

24 Veterans Memorial Highway
706-368-6789

berry.edu/oakhill

Oak Hill is a magnificent example of Colonial Revival architecture. Built in 1847, it remains today as it was lived in from 1860-1942 by the Berry family. The formal garden & fountains are masterpieces of beauty that have been recognized as one of only a few All-American Display Gardens. The Martha Berry Museum, an example of Greek Revival architecture, houses a remarkable collection of art and exhibits of Martha Berry's life and work in founding the Berry Schools. Tours also include three outbuildings. This attraction is on the National Register of Historic Sites and is rated a AAA Star Attraction. Mon - Sat, 10am - 5pm. Adults $8. Seniors $7. Students $5. Children 5 & Under Free, Group rates available.

1st FRIDAY

FREE Concert Series

The first Friday of the month from May - September, downtown Rome welcomes the crowds for dinner, shopping and a free concert. The monthly concert is held at Bridgepoint Plaza (see map page 15). In May and July, the concert moves to Broad Street for a block party style concert. In the case of rain, the concert moves indoors to the Rome City Auditorium. The free concerts are made possible thanks to the support of downtown businesses.

Smoking is prohibited at this family friendly, outdoor event.

Visit DowntownRomeGA.com for concert line-up and details.

rome history

Rome in 1864

Rome's three flowing rivers that meet in the heart of downtown have drawn travelers and settlers to the area for centuries.

Although Hernando DeSoto visited here in the 1500's, it was the gentle Cherokee Indians who claimed Rome and Floyd County as their aptly described "Enchanted Land." The Cherokee influence is still heard in the sweet sounding names of Rome's rivers: Coosa, Etowah and Oostanaula.

In the 1830's, early settlers braved the wilderness to build new lives in Georgia's rugged up-country. Discovering the lush mountains and abundant waters, pioneers settled the town and named it Rome because of the seven prominent hills that rise above the city. Cotton became king and brought prosperity. Mule drawn wagons loaded with cotton bales and other necessities crowded the streets and lined the docks as dozens of steamers and paddle wheelers transported goods over the rivers, our highways of yesterday.

Civil War history was also made in Rome. The city sought sanctuary with three prominent forts, Attaway, Norton and Stovall, located as sentinels around the high points of the city's center. In May of 1863,

Original Shorter College Campus

John Wisdom, the "Paul Revere of the South," rode 64 miles on horseback from the west to alert Rome that the Yankees were coming. The town was saved, but in May of 1864, Rome fell to the Union Forces under the command of General William T. Sherman. Soldiers of the Union Army occupied Rome until November of that year. When General Sherman and his men departed, they set fire to many of the structures on their "March to the Sea".

A lady pioneer, Miss Martha Berry, made one of the largest contributions to the area. Late in the 18th Century, Martha, a wealthy planter's daughter, began to teach mountain children in her little playhouse cabin near her home. Her mission of "education of the head, heart and hands" led to the development of the world-renowned Berry College.

With two rivers merging to form a third, Rome has occasionally been subjected to serious flooding. The first severe flood after Rome became a city was the flood of 1886, which inundated the city and allowed a steamboat to travel down Broad Street.

In the late 1890's, the city passed a resolution raising the height of Broad Street. As a result, some of the below-ground basements of Rome's historic buildings were originally the ground level entrances.

In these exciting times, a beautiful little city grew by the rivers and a lovely Victorian neighborhood blossomed beside it. Much of Downtown Rome remains in original condition as the community's penchant for the past saved its grandeur.

Flood in early 19th Century

Since the 1980's, citizens and the government have joined hands to restore the historic district and reclaim one of the South's loveliest cities.

As you stroll through our historic city, take note of the original architectural beauty of yesterday and the bustling life of a charming southern town today.

Georgia's Rome

Where the rivers meet
the mountains begin...

Robert Redden Footbridge

Few southern cities can boast the beauty and charm of Georgia's Rome. Tucked in the foothills of the ancient Appalachian Mountains, Rome is a city that has passionately preserved its past and delights in sharing it with visitors.
