

A stage with dark blue curtains on either side. A spotlight shines down on a wooden floor. The background is a dark, starry sky.

★ EXPLORE ★ GEORGIA MUSIC

A band of four people performing live music on a stage. A sign in the background reads "40 watt club".

LIVE MUSIC

A large crowd of people at a festival, with a person in the foreground holding up a phone to take a picture.

FESTIVALS

A large orchestra performing in a concert hall, with a conductor standing in front of them.

ATTRACTIONS

A museum exhibit featuring various musical instruments, including guitars, a piano, and a large circular object, displayed on a wall.

EXHIBITIONS

A large, historic building with a prominent tower, likely a landmark in Georgia.

LANDMARKS

A statue of a person playing a piano, set against a background of trees and a lighthouse.

HERITAGE

★ EXPLORE ★ GEORGIA MUSIC

---

Live Music From Dahlonega's intimate Crimson Moon to Atlanta's Philips Arena, Georgia venues nurture homegrown heroes & welcome national touring acts.

Festivals More than 75 music festivals are staged annually, from Shaky Knees to Savannah Stopover and the Blind Willie McTell Blues Festival.

Attractions From the GRAMMY Award-winning Atlanta Symphony Orchestra to the swingin' Macon Pops, Georgia ensembles offer numerous seasonal performances.

Exhibitions From Macon's Allman Brothers Band Museum at the Big House to the Ma Rainey House & Blues Museum in Columbus, Georgia's musical stories are on display statewide.

Landmarks Take your photo in Athens at the trestle from the cover of R.E.M.'s debut album, Murmur, or visit Cascade Family Skating from the movie ATL.

Heritage Statues of Georgia music pioneers dot the landscape, including James Brown in Augusta, Ray Charles in Albany, Johnny Mercer in Savannah and Otis Redding in Macon.

Plan your next musical journey at ExploreGeorgia.org.

#GeorgiaMusic